Start Location: N End of Hermann Park

The pack gathered at the north end of the parking lot by the zoo at Hermann Park. The day was gray and cold, but about 50 hounds decided to brave the winter day for this Hash. All week long we'd been told that Yeastie Boy would be bringing his microbrew for the circle, and I couldn't wait!

The Trail

The trail took off South Southeast past the reflection pond and south to the playground and then East along the south edge of Hermann Park. It then cut south across the streets to Braes Bayou than west and south across over a bridge just south of the medical center. We then ranged around in the area east of the Metro Park and Ride finally finding true trail heading back north and then East along Braes Bayou again. True trail then crossed over a footbridge to the north side again for a loop through Hermann Park proper, and then East over the Bayou again and then south to a small auxiliary park across the Bayou from the main park. The On On was under a pavilion in this small park.

The Circle

Yeastie Boy's 8.5% chocolaty mini-keg was excellent! I attempted to lighten it as much as possible. Also, Tonka Fuck brought out plenty of delicious mini quesadillas for even the DFLs. We had two new boots, Jyoti & Roman, about 10 reboots, and about five visitors. Various harriettes were finding sex toys in their hash bags. Drummer Bill was shamed for not bringing the Hashit. There weren't supposed to be any dogs on trail this day, but Pimp Doggy Dog, Horny Dog, and Rain Bitch showed up, so they were made to drink. Eargasm tried to show off with a one inch erection, and was made to drink for this. There was some other tomfoolery, but I was drinkin'....
