Hash # 1671 - The Anheuser-Busch-Whacking Hash

Hares - Tits & Asics (T&A) and Dick Assley

Start: Vantage Pkwy West, Near IAH

Hounds: Approx 60 or so

So, there we were in shiggy up to here....

Start of this trail was pushed back a bit due to the hashline being down, but even though that happened we still had a good turnout. The pack gathered for chalk-talk and virgins were introduced.

And Dick Assley explained to us what this mark meant, to "ug's" and "This is gonna be fucked up" responses from the usual curmudgeons.

Turns out that meant "back to start." More on that later. First off, here's the trail I ran (red), along with where I think the trail went (blue) yes, I kinda stayed on trail. I know, right?! But I digress...

Trail went through a bunch of shiggy that was easily boxable on the road, which the majority of the pack did. It then kind of disappeared into some really high grass and then between a couple of bulls. Halfmoon made fun of me for going way around and losing FRB status. Damn Bulls (Actually I was channeling my inner-Rubbin the Boy Wanker).

After the bulls, trail was kinda sparse but then picked up by a fence where there were 2 arrows, one thru the fence and the other "B2S" (Back to start). Here's the fence:

Butt Pirate got circle going at the appointed time. The hares drank early and often:

The Pits drank for his snake and lovely jacket:

Those too lazy to stand drank:

And then got iced, which explains this:

ONONON was at "Hoot County," which always sucks(not!). Soon after The Pits left for the night, his son arrives (no shit) and introduced himself to us:

So, the non-believer I am, I call The Pits and he says, "thats my boy, buy him a beer!" Which I did.

Thats about it.
